son Square Garden Track. A first class card was offered at the bicycle races last night at Madison Square Garden and a large and enthusiastic crowd attended. The feature was the twenty mile race, which was won by ten lengths by John Bedell, with Joe Fogler second and Menus Bedell third.

In the sixth mile John Bedell and Fogler gained these two. Bedell proved to be the faster sprinter, and had an easy time in getting first prize. Fenn punctured a tire and was compelled to stop riding. McFarland stopped when Bedell and Fogler gained

A prize of $5 was offered to the rider who crossed the tape first at each mile, and after Bedell and Fogler had gained a lap it was like finding money for them. Fogler succeeded in crossing the tape first nine times, while Bedell did the trick six times. The time of the race was 51:383.5. The one mile professional handicap race was an interesting struggle. Lawson, who won the race, was teamed with McFarland. Fogler and Fenn were teamed, while Root and Menus Bedell rode together.

Root set the pace in the early part of the race, but three laps from the finish McFarland made a great spurt, with Lawson behind him.

In the last lap McFarland gave the lead to Lawson, who won by a length. Fenn was second and John Bedell third. Lawson and Fenn were the scratch men in the race.

KNABENSHUE READY TO RACE.

Says Financial Arrangements Between Himself and Stevens Are Not Complete.

A. Roy Knabenshue, who made two successful flights over Manhattan in his airship, said last evening that he expected to race airships with Lee Stevens, but that there had been a hitch in the financial arrangements.

"I met Stevens on Saturday," he said, "and while we agreed to have a race some time, it was impossible to settle the financial end of the affair. My manager is ready to put up $5,000 on our side, provided Stevens can put up a like sum, and provided there can be an agreement sum, and provided there can be an agreement as to expenses. We are willing to have the race over any part of New-York City, if our expenses are paid. It is for Stevens to decide when and where the race will take place."

Stevens said he would be ready to meet Knabenshue within a month, and expected to win the race in the air over the city. Asked if he expected to make money in the building of airships for racing purposes. Stevens said:

I expect that there will be a growing demand for airships, just as there has been an increasing demand for automobiles, by rich men who love sport in which excitement is increased by an element of danger. As airships are perfected more rich men will want to have the experience of sailing through the air at an elevation of a few thousand feet. It is my aim to build the best airships going and supply the demand for them.

Peekskill, N. Y., Aug. 28.-Miss Lillian Spinner, of New-York, a guest at the Weygant Cottage. Lake Oscawana, went in bathing to-night. She could not swim, went beyond her depth and sank. The cries of her companion brought to her aid Nona Thomas, a maid employed at the cottage of Dr. Perley H. Mason, and Master Burling Prince, of Philadelphia, both good swimmers. They rescued the girl as she was going down the last time. She was restored to consciousness with difficulty.

LINING THE JEROME PARK RESERVOIR.

concrete work on the west basin of the Jeromo Park Reservoir, New-York City, is nearly finished. The area of this basin is ninety-three scres and it is being lined with concrete six inches thick, made by a battery of eighteen Ransome concrete mixers. This is probably the largest number of concrete mixers ever engaged in work at one time on a reservoir. When the contracter, William Bradley, of this city, has finished the west basin he will begin on the east basin which covers 160 acres.

The Gentle Turtle Not a Dove of Peace in South Norwalk.

South Norwalk, Conn., Aug. 28.—The "loggerhead" trial took up the afternoon in the town court here trial took up the afternoon in the town court here to-day. It was offered in evidence that the turtle was susceptible to pain—that it was not; that it was an animal—that it was not; that it was an animal—that it was not that it was susceptible to pain—that it had no feeling whatever, and, to cap the climax, one witness testified that the giant chelonian was one of the crustacea.

Dr. Cronin said that the turtle had no corebellum, and while susceptible to pain, had no conception of it, and therefore signs of pain on its part were but reflex muscular action.

Dr. Rehrer showed that the turtle was a reptile, had all kinds of brains, a full fledged heart and felt pain like a human being. Sailors of fifty years' experience told of capture of turtles and their habits and aches.

Judge Taylor continued the case until Thursday that more expert opinion might be obtained, and the local marketman, who is charged with cruelty to animals in that he perforated the flippers of the monster loggerhead and put it on exhibition in front of the market, is thankful for the respite.

TEXAS STEER ON A RAMPAGE.

Dashes Through Streets from East River to Park-ave.

The animal was followed by an excited crowd, whose shouts and futile attempts to stop it only made it more paniestricken. The steer became exhausted, and, after turning into 34th-st., backed up against a fence and awaited the assault of the crowd, but a rope thrown over its neck by an employe of the Haufman stockyards ended its career of freedom. It was placifly led back to the yards.

GANG MARRIES FOR MONEY

Dr. Witzhoff Believed To Be Mem- A.M. Sandy Hook 6:28 Gov. Island 6:42 Hell Gate 8:35 P.M. Sandy Hook 6:49 Gov. Island 7:07 Hell Gate 8:00 ber of Bigamy Band.

That a gang of men have for the last two of three years been making a business of marrying women on the East Side and then robbing them. made by Edward Schott and Francis A. Huneker private dectectives, employed on the case of Di George A. Witzhoff, the fugitive bigamist. One of the members of this gang is now serving a term in Sing Sing prison, having been convicted on the charge of bigamy.

The discovery of the existence of these banded professional bigamists might relieve Dr. Witzhoff of riages. For since the announcement of his operations in this line, apparently nearly every young woman who was married, robbed and deserted in the last two years declared that Dr. Witzhoff was her betrayer. However, it is learned that he was a member of the gang, being known as Adolph increased by three. This bring up to ten the num-ber of women who can with any degree of positiveness identify him as their husband. There are many more with mere suspicions. Benjamin Franklin, the attorney who is directing the investigation into the career of Dr. Witzhoff, conto receive letters from women in differen parts of the country who are sure that Witzhoff is the man who stole their affections and money, although each time under a different allas.

One of these communications came yesterday in the form of a postal card from J. G. Gill, of Cambridge, Mass., who charges against Witzhoff marriages in Germany and Chicago. He writes:

From description of Dr. Witzhoff, I think I recognize a Dr. Juster, whose operations in Berlin are known to me. Circumstantially I have heard also of a Chicago incident in his career. If I can aid in giving him his dues it will give me pleasure.

Another accusation made yesterday against Witzhoff was that he was guilty of the theft of $500 from Miss Sarah Alter, of No. 127 Monroe-st., this from Miss Sarah Alter, of No. 127 Monroe-st., this city, to whom he was engaged to be married. The girl died from a broken heart, it is said, when she discovered the deception practised on her.

Mrs. Sophie Youcker is the other woman with whom Witzhoff, under the latter name, is charged with having contracted a bigamous marriage. Leonard A. Snitkin, a lawyer, of No. 309 Broadway, recognized yesterday in the photograph of Witzhoff Mrs. Youcker's husband, who retained him as counsel two years ago when he was sued for divorce in Brooklyn.

Mrs. Youcker in connecting her husband with the East Side gang of professional husbands said that one of his friends was Harry Kauffman, the bigamist, now confined at Sing Sing.

Although it was the theory of some persons connected with the Witzhoff case that most of his marriages were brought about through introductions made by schatchens, or marriage brokers, no evidence has been adduced to bear out such belief.

Detectives Schott and Huneker, who went to Yonkers on Saturday night on a supposed clew, and followed it thence to Newburg, Poughkeepsie and Albany, returned on Sunday and reported another case of mistaken identification. However, they are still sanguine of effecting his capture. The last heard of Witzhoff was from Denver, where he was known as Levine.
